crunchbase

Our Mission:

Democratize the way innovators access opportunity.

About Us:

Crunchbase is the leading platform for professionals to discover innovative companies, connect with the people behind them, and pursue new opportunities. Over 50 million professionals—including entrepreneurs, investors, market researchers, and salespeople—trust Crunchbase to inform their business decisions. And, companies all over the world rely on Crunchbase to power their applications, making over a billion calls to our API each year.

Our Vision:

We believe that a more diverse group of problem solvers will solve a more diverse set of problems. We want to democratize access to opportunities so that people and companies with different perspectives can accelerate innovation for a better future.

Our Products:

Crunchbase Pro: For individuals who want to access Crunchbase data through our web interface, Crunchbase enables you to intelligently search and target the right opportunities - all in one place.

Crunchbase Enterprise: For teams that want to leverage Crunchbase data in their existing workflows, Crunchbase Enterprise can be tailored to CRM systems for data enrichment.

Crunchbase for Applications
For companies that want to bring Crunchbase data to their customers, Crunchbase for Applications offers a seamless and flexible integration into their product.
